Organised by

CIVILSOCIETY media

Save £50 by booking before 16.03.2018

TRUSTEE EXCHANGE RAISING THE BAR FOR CHARITY GOVERNANCE

26.04.2018

Royal Garden Hotel, London

• Diversity deficit • New Charity Governance Code • GDPR • Transforming your charity

• Digital partnerships • Chair's Corner • Financial governance

Sponsored by

Cazenove Capital

haysmacintyre chartered accountants & tax advisers

Book today:

EMAIL events@civilsociety.co.ukCALL 020 7819 1200FAX 020 7819 1210WEB civilsociety.co.uk/exchange

♥ @CSGovernance #TrusteeExchange

WELCOME

I am delighted to announce the return of Governance & Leadership's flagship event, Trustee Exchange on 26 April 2018. Now in its 11th year, the conference showcases some of the innovations and solutions that organisations of all sizes have devised to meet the challenges of governing modern charities, as well as addressing key developments and challenges such as the new Charity Governance Code and the incoming GDPR Regulation.

We hope you will join this unique forum to exchange knowledge, share best practice and connect with your peers and sector experts. With a variety of topics across governance, communications, fundraising, compliance and culture, you'll be able to take away real practical ideas and solutions to meet your organisation's priorities. We hope to welcome you and your team to The Royal Garden Hotel on April 26th for what promises to be another valuable and inspirational day.

Tania Mason, editor, Governance & Leadership

		Tania Mason, editor, Governance & Leadership
09:00	Registr	ation, coffee & networking
09:25	Chair's	welcome
	Tania M	lason, editor, Governance & Leadership
09:40	Openin	g Address: Making boardrooms places of harmony & collaboration
	She will o	spiring yet practical opening keynote, Nada Kakabadse will share key insights from her co-published report into boardroom dynamics. Dutline the findings on what factors contribute to good governance, offer tips on how to capitalise on 'constructive tension' and trate that conflict is not only inevitable, but plays an essential part in building the most effective boards.
	Nada Ka	akabadse , professor of policy, governance and ethics, Henley Business School
10:15	Panel d	iscussion: The diversity deficit – what can charity boards learn from progress outside the sector?
	compris	or we champion diversity, and yet fail to demonstrate this in practice with many boards and leadership teams remaining largely ed of older white men. In this lively panel discussion, experts from business, government and the health service will share their tips and Jes for improving diversity at the highest levels of organisations – including some surprisingly easy wins.
	Panellist	en Olisa, chair, Shaw Trust and deputy chair, Institute of Directors s: Mark Lomas , head of equality, diversity and inclusion, HS2; Melanie Dawes , civil service gender champion; Paul Deemer , head of rand inclusion, NHS Employers and Rachel Osikoya , head of diversity and inclusion, Maersk Group
11:00	Networ	king & refreshment break
		Breakout sessions – 11:30
Stream	А:	1A. GDPR: Demonstrating effective data governance
COMMS FUNDR/		This session will serve as an essential update for any trustee with questions or concerns around the incoming GDPR Regulation. Attend this interactive session and bring any questions you may have for Ardi Kolah LL.M., who will cut through the fog of confusion and provide a clear view as to how your organisation can comply with the new data legislation, as well as create a framework that will unlock the opportunities for building deeper digital trust.
		Ardi Kolah LL.M., executive fellow & director, GDPR Transition Programme, Henley Business School
Stream	B:	1B. Unitary boards: The new model for governance?
GOVERI IN FOCL		In April 2017, the board of rights charity The Advocacy Project voted to change its constitution to allow its chief executive to become a trustee and to pay its service-user trustees for their board role. A year on, Judith Davey and Kate Ferguson will share learnings from their journey while Michael Hagan and Adam Antonio will offer insights into the unique perspective that they bring to the board as service-user trustees.
		Judith Davey, chief executive officer, Kate Ferguson, chair, Michael Hagan, trustee and Adam Antonio, trustee, The Advocacy Project
Stream	C:	1C. Financial literacy: Advanced
COMPLI & FINAN		The board is collectively responsible for the charity's finances – the tasks involved go well beyond reading regular management accounts and signing off your annual report. What do you need in place to have effective financial management and governance? What key questions should trustees be asking? This session will consider these questions as well as addressing the impact on financial governance of the new Charity Governance Code.
		Judith Miller, partner, Sayer Vincent
Stream	D:	1D. Personality matters: Building better teams
PEOPLE CULTUR		This session will explore the interplay between different personality types and interpersonal styles in order to build boards and senior teams that are more compatible. Drawing on her extensive experience as HR director across various organisations, Helen Giles will outline why the best and most effective teams are those who have managed to successfully incorporate diverse individual personalities. She will offer insights into how different types of people can work together more harmoniously, and what you can do as a leader to foster collaborative relationships across your senior executive teams.
		Helen Giles, executive director of people & governance, St Mungo's

	Breakout sessions – 12:15
Stream A:	2A. Action for Children case study: Driving impact and efficiency with digital
COMMS & FUNDRAISING	In 2016 Action for Children partnered with the technology giant Fujitsu to digitally transform the charity's entire case file library. By leveraging this support to revolutionise their back office functions, they have been able to unlock opportunities to accelerate their impact and reach even more young people. Vivienne Hoskins will outline the motivation behind the partnership and some of the challenges faced, including the process of assessing risk and scrutinising progress. She will share some of the key impacts this project has had to date and will suggest practical tips on how to effectively increase your organisation's digital capacity.
	Vivienne Hoskins, operations transformation manager, Action for Children
Stream B:	2B. Mencap case study: The role of the trustee board in a crisis
GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS	Last year, Mencap was staring down the barrel of insolvency after HMRC demanded £20m worth of back pay for their employed carers on 'sleep-in' shifts. While the charity awaits legal clarification of the issue, Oonagh Smyth will tell the story of how Mencap's board responded and impart some top tips on how trustees can best support their executive leaders in a crisis, particularly the importance of flexibility around the strategic/operational split.
	Oonagh Smyth, director of strategy and influence, Mencap
Stream C:	2C. Trustee liability: What risks do I face and how can I manage them?
COMPLIANCE & FINANCE	This session will be a practical update to help you understand and manage the legal risks you may face as a trustee. Am I liable for decisions taken if I wasn't at the meeting? In what circumstances might I be taken to court for my decisions as a trustee? How far can trustee indemnity insurance protect me? What do I do if I have concerns about my charity's governance? Con Alexander will answer these questions and more, explain the personal liabilities associated with trusteeship and outline how best to mitigate against personal risk.
	Con Alexander, partner, Veale Wasbrough Vizards
Stream D:	2D. Chair's Corner (Conducted under Chatham House Rule)
PEOPLE & CULTURE	This interactive session offers a confidential environment for chairs of any size organisation to come together to discuss challenges and share best practice:
	 Managing the relationship with your chief executive Ensuring your charity is financially sustainable Managing difficult relationships Trustee recruitment Chairing effective meetings Ensuring your charity is compliant Setting the vision, values and goals of your organisation
	John Williams, vice chair, Association of Chairs

13:00 Lunch & networking break

	Breakout sessions – 14:00
Stream A:	3A. Developing a proactive comms strategy
COMMS & FUNDRAISING	Reputation is arguably a charity's most valuable asset and for a sector so often in the public eye, an effective comms strategy should be held on a par with operational, strategic and even financial risk. This session will outline the key approaches and considerations for developing a focused, deliverable comms strategy, giving real-world examples for both established and smaller charities, including: agreeing priorities, stakeholder engagement, maximising resources, protecting your brand and how to exploit opportunities to enhance your reputation.
	Peter Zarko-Flynn, director of communications, Cancer Research UK
Stream B:	3B. Stepping up: How to bring the new Charity Governance Code to life
GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS	The new Charity Governance Code has been widely welcomed by the sector, with the Charity Commission even withdrawing its own 'Hallmarks of an Effective Charity' guidance and pointing boards towards the Code. But how easy and effective is it to use in practice? In this session, Delyth Morgan will share Breast Cancer Now's experience of implementing the Code, while the Code's architect Rosie Chapman will talk about next steps for its development.
	Rosie Chapman, chair, Charity Governance Code Steering Group and Delyth Morgan, chief executive, Breast Cancer Now
Stream C:	3C. Setting your investment policy
COMPLIANCE & FINANCE	With charities facing increased financial pressure and scrutiny, it is vital to effectively safeguard and promote your organisation's financial health. This session will explore the responsibility of a charity trustee in helping to shape a robust investment policy. Kate Rogers will outline the vital questions trustees must consider when investing for the longer term, and will impart practical tips on ensuring sound financial governance of your organisation's investment assets.
	Kate Rogers, head of policy, Cazenove
Stream D:	3D. Creating a culture in which people's minds thrive
PEOPLE & CULTURE	A large and growing body of research indicates that healthier, happier staff drive long-term business performance through higher engagement and increased productivity. How can you as a leader help create an effective organisational culture in which people thrive? Drawing on insights from neuroscience, psychology and real-life examples, author Andy Gibson will explore how to maintain mental health at work, and how the trustee board can influence organisational culture. Join this session to hear tangible solutions to take back to your own organisations to build happier, more effective teams.
	Andy Gibson, head gardener and chief executive, Mindapples

EASY WAYS TO BOOK

FUNDRAISING fundraising practices. The British Red Cross has responded to this challenge by establishing a committee to provide overs fundraising activities, highlight areas of risk and ensure the organisation adheres to the highest standards. Join Keith Shiph Hilary Douglas who will outline the framework, as well as some thoughts on what this model could mean for the sector. Keith Shipman, trustee and Hilary Douglas, vice-chair, British Red Cross Stream B: 4B. Mosaic Clubhouse case study: The board's role in conquering adversity GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS Seven years ago, Mosaic Clubhouse's main funder presented the charity with a long list of virtually impossible changes condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive moment the challenges head-on, and the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undert to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented chain including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives, but thrives. Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse Stream C: 4C. Financial governance oro: A guide for non-finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilooks like in the relationship between the board and the finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilooks like in the relationship between the board and the forseeable future is one of the key duites of trustees is essented that advisory partner, haysmacintyre Stream D: 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative h	Net	tworking & refreshment break
COMMS & FUNDRAISING Charities are facing upprecedented pressure to demonstrate transparency and ethical assurance over their organisation fundraising particles. The British Red Cross has responded to this challenge by establishing a committee to provide overs fundraising activities, highlight areas of risk and ensure the organisation adheres to the highest standards. Join Keith Ship Hilary Douglas who will outline the framework, as well as some thoughts on what this model could mean for the sector. Keith Shipman, trustee and Hilary Douglas, vice-chair, British Red Cross Stream B: 4B. Mosaic Clubhouse case study: The board's role in conquering adversity GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS Seven years ago, Mosaic Clubhouse's main funder presented the charity with a long list of virtually impossible changes condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive team met the challenges head-on, and the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undert to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented cha including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives, but thrives. Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse Stream C: COMPLIANCE & FINANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in fnance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good pr looks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askit the key financial risks a		Breakout sessions – 15:15
FUNDRAISING fundraising practices. The British Red Cross has responded to this challenge by establishing a committee to provide overs fundraising activities, highlight areas of risk and ensure the organisation adheres to the highest standards. Join Keith Shiph Hilary Douglas who will outline the framework, as well as some thoughts on what this model could mean for the sector. Keith Shipman, trustee and Hilary Douglas, vice-chair, British Red Cross Stream B: 4B. Mosaic Clubhouse case study: The board's role in conquering adversity Seven years ago, Mosaic Clubhouse's main funder presented the charity with a long list of virtually impossible changes condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive moment the challenges head-on, and the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undert to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented chain including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives, but thrives. Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse Stream C: 4C. Financial governance oro: A guide for non-finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good priooks like in the relationship between the board and the finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good priooks like in the relationship between the board and the foresceable future is one of the key duites of trustees is essented the charity in the face of negative headlines PEOPLE & CULTURE 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines </th <th>m A:</th> <th>4A. British Red Cross case study: Safeguarding your fundraising</th>	m A:	4A. British Red Cross case study: Safeguarding your fundraising
Stream B: 4B. Mosaic Clubhouse case study: The board's role in conquering adversity GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS Seven years ago, Mosaic Clubhouse's main funder presented the charity with a long list of virtually impossible changes condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive team met the challenges head-on, and the mext few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Marsea Ness will reflect on the journey undert. to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented chain including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives. Stream C: 4C. Financial governance 10: A guide for non-finance trustees COMPLIANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilook like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be aware of. Stream D: 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines PEOPLE & CULTURE Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or any energular basis, session, Naser Haghamed and Lami El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do the help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. <td< th=""><th></th><th>fundraising activities, highlight areas of risk and ensure the organisation adheres to the highest standards. Join Keith Shipman &</th></td<>		fundraising activities, highlight areas of risk and ensure the organisation adheres to the highest standards. Join Keith Shipman &
GOVERNANCE IN FOCUS Seven years ago, Mosaic Clubhouse's main funder presented the charity with a long list of virtually impossible changes condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive team met the challenges head-on, and the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undert: to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented cha- including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives, but thrives. Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse Stream C: COMPLIANCE & FINANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees the a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good pr looks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askit the key financial risks all trustees should be aware of. Stream D: PEOPLE & CULTURE PEOPLE & CULTURE Mary charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re Vorldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation.		Keith Shipman, trustee and Hilary Douglas, vice-chair, British Red Cross
IN FOCUS condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive team met the challenges head-on, and the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undert: to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented chain including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not survives, but thrives. Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse Stream C: COMPLIANCE & FINANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees EcompLiance Exerce the vecutive and the finance in this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilooks like in the relationship between the board and the finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilooks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askit the key financial risks all trustees should be aware of. Sam Coutinho, audit and advisory partner, haysmacintyre PEOPLE & CULTURE Mary charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re Voridwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how t	m B:	4B. Mosaic Clubhouse case study: The board's role in conquering adversity
Stream C: 4C. Financial governance 101: A guide for non-finance trustees COMPLIANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good prilooks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askit the key financial risks all trustees should be aware of. Stream D: 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines PEOPLE & Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re CULTURE Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. Vesion, Naser Haghamed and Lamia EI Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, ir how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia EI Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address; the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its i and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming ch		condition of renewing its contract. Instead of giving in, the board and executive team met the challenges head-on, and over the next few years completely turned the charity around. In this session Maresa Ness will reflect on the journey undertaken to transform the fortunes of the organisation: she will discuss the role of the board in dealing with unprecedented change, including how to effectively manage risk, and will impart practical tips for leaders who want to ensure their charity not only
COMPLIANCE Ensuring your charity is financially healthy and will remain so for the foreseeable future is one of the key duties of trustees it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good protoks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askin the key financial risks all trustees should be aware of. Stream D: 40. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines PEOPLE & Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re CULTURE Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia El Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its or vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission <		Maresa Ness, chief executive (and former chair), Mosaic Clubhouse
 & FINANCE it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good pr looks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be askit the key financial risks all trustees should be aware of. Sam Coutinho, audit and advisory partner, haysmacintyre 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia El Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set or vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission 	m C:	4C. Financial governance 101: A guide for non-finance trustees
Stream D: 4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines PEOPLE & Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re CULTURE Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia El Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set out vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission incoming chair, Charity Commission		it can feel like a minefield to those without a background in finance. In this session Sam Coutinho will outline what good practice looks like in the relationship between the board and the finance director – including the questions trustees should be asking and
PEOPLE & CULTURE Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Re Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia El Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission		Sam Coutinho, audit and advisory partner, haysmacintyre
CULTURE Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, in how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to diversity and build resilience within its own organisation. 16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission	m D:	4D. Promoting controversial causes: Leading a charity in the face of negative headlines
16:00 Transit time 16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its i and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission		Many charities work hard to further worthy charitable causes that sometimes attract criticism or controversy. Islamic Relief Worldwide, for instance, has achieved a record income while battling Islamophobia and media hostility on a regular basis. In this session, Naser Haghamed and Lamia El Amri will share their advice for dealing with opposition from a variety of sources, including how to maintain staff morale, what the board can do to help, and also the steps that Islamic Relief Worldwide has taken to promote diversity and build resilience within its own organisation.
16:05 Closing address: The next phase for the regulator In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its i and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission		Naser Haghamed, chief executive and Lamia El Amri, chair, Islamic Relief Worldwide
In this closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission	Tra	ansit time and on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set ou vision for building better governance. incoming chair, Charity Commission	Clos	osing address: The next phase for the regulator and	his closing address, the Charity Commission chair will share their thoughts on the future relationship between the sector and its regulator d on how charities should respond to modern challenges and opportunities. They will outline their priorities in the role and set out their on for building better governance.
16:40 Chairle classing remarks	inco	oming chair, Charity Commission
Chair's closing remarks	Cha	air's closing remarks
16:50 Networking drinks reception	Net	tworking drinks reception

Very well organised and stimulating event with excellent keynote speaker, many takeaways and networking opportunities.
John Gilbert, Change Foundation

□ Mr □ Mrs □ Ms □ Miss □ Other Charity number	Your details	\square Please send me information about Governance & Leadership magazine					Delegate name (inc title) Position	Charity team ticket (up to four places)	Charity extra place(s)	Charity delegate	Small charity rate < £250k income	QUICK REGISTRATION
		Ап	1 (11:30)	1 (11:30)	1 (11:30)	1 (11:30)	Email	£599 +VAT	£149 +VAT	£249 +VAT	£199 +VAT	Early bird (booking made by 16 March)
POST	NEXT STEPS	Amount to be paid (+ VAT @ 20%) f	00 2 (12:15) 3 (14:00) 4 (15:15)	0) 2 (12:15) 3 (14:00) 4 (15:15)	0) 2 (12:15) 3 (14:00) 4 (15:15)	30) 2 (12:15) 3 (14:00) 4 (15:15)	Your sessions (write letter A-D) in box provided	£749 +VAT	£199 +VAT	£299 +VAT	£199 +VAT	Bookings after 16 March

Your details		NEXT STEPS
□ Mr □ Mrs □ Ms □ Miss □ Other	Charity number	POST
Full name	Tel	רקבבריטגין איזע-האבה-טטאא, כואוו society ו 15 Prescott Place, London, SW4 61
Position	Fax	FAX
Organisation	Mobile	020 7819 1210
Email	Mobility or dietary requirements for any delegates?	BOOK ONLINE
Address		civilsociety.co.uk/exchange
Postcode		ning,
		riverer, circumstances beyond one date. committation or date committation or date committed writing and sent or substitutions, alterations or cancellations Society. Media at the add of the speakers and/or thoric As auch Civil listed above
		Consists Marking and on copies, and accurate states of the second s

8

oxdot Cheque made payable to Civil Society Media Ltd BACS Account Name: Civil Society Media Ltd Account Number: 17643665 Sort Code: 23 – 05 – 80

3 easy ways to pay

Request invoice & pay later

Substitution and cancellation policy: On receipt of your booking form, your place is confirmed. Delegate substitutions are allowed. Refunds on cancellations will only be issued (less a 15% administration charge) Society Media Ltd reserves the right to alter or modify the advertised speakers and/ or topics if necessary. Any substitutions or alterations will be updated on our web page as soon as possible.

Personal details: This conference is produced by CMI Society Media Ltd. By registering to attend you are agreeing to be contacted with information relating to your delegate place and future events. Please tick fiyou do protect when the context of the society of 4 days prior to the t be issued after this cancellations MUST or faxed to Civil ddress and number not wish to be contacted about associated products from Civil Society Media.

— Please tick if you do not wish to receive carefully screened, work related emails from selected third parties
—

The must-attend event for charity CEOs, chairs and trustees

What the delegates say

- Great day, wide-ranging topics, just need to prioritise my actions now. JJ Stephanie Maurel, Concordia
- Very useful way to spend a day. Much food for thought and a good mix of tactical and strategic issues to discuss.
 Susan Griffin, The Donkey Sanctuary
- Very valuable introduction to the role of the trustee on a charity board and excellent networking opportunity.
 Ian Judson, Sarcoma UK

- Excellent breadth of information. Stimulating plenaries and workshops.
 Sandie Keene, Langley House Trust
- Excellent critically important for getting up-to-date information, direct from the 'horse's mouth' in many cases.
 Duncan Bridges, Malvern Hills Conservators
- Extremely relevant to my role as chair. Some new perspectives and reminders offered.
 Andrew Johnston, C.C.I.L

Speakers include

Norldwide